CHARITY.

"BLESSED IS HE THAT CONSIDERETH THE POOR."

An Organization of Citizens for Systematic Work in This Direction.

"In faith and hope the world will disagree, But all mankind's concern is charity."

At last the city has a charity organization to provide systematically for the deserving poor. It has been needed for a long time, for impostors have so thoroughly worked the city heretofore as to make the most charitably disposed citizens suspicious, but the extremely cold weather, which appears to have taken a death grip in this latitude, produced such widespread suffering among the poor as to cause a generous outburst of sympathy and assistance from all the benevolent people in the city. In order that the good work might be made more effective and the efforts be successfully directed to those in actual distress, a meeting was held at the State Library Monday to complete a charity organization. The meeting was attended by the pastors of all the churches, members of the city council and the Humane Society and a great many others interested in the cause.

Rev. George Darsie was made Temporary President and Mr. Ben T. Farmer, Temporary Secretary.

On motion of Mr. B. C. Milam, the following regular officers of the Humane Society were declared the permanent officers of the Charitable Society, viz:

President—E. Polk Johnson, Vice-Pres.—Pastors of various Churches. Secretary and General Manager—B. T. Farmer. Treasurer—A. W. Overton. Directors—L. Mangan, W. S. Dehoney, J. E. Miles, Dr. S. E. James and Prof. McHenry Rhoads.

The following soliciting committee of three men and seven ladies—one from each Church—was then appointed viz:

W. H. Sneed, M. P. Gray and D. C. Crutcher and—Baptist Church—Miss Lena Kirtley. First Presbyterian Church—Mrs. Mary Hawkins. Methodist Church—Mrs. Jno. E. Miles.

Second Presbyterian Church—Miss Mag Russell.

Christian Church—Miss Mannie Powell.

Catholic Church—Miss Carrie Weltzel.

Episcopal Church—Miss Jennie Duval.

It was ordered that Mr. B. T. Farmer, at the United States Express office, be the authorized agent to receive all donations of money, clothing, food, etc., and to expend the same to the best advantage.

The following address to the people of the city relating to the work of the organization was then prepared for publication:

We request the cessation entirely of promiscuous charity—referring all such to the central organization, where the cases will be at once investigated by the officers of the society and the needy promptly rendered assistance.

We appeal to all our citizens that they co-operate with this organization in the noble work of relieving want and aid it in centralizing the charities of our city, so that the duplicating of donations be avoided. The Secretary will keep a complete record of all persons needing assistance, how and when supplied, also a record of all donations, from whom given, etc. This work is under the direct supervision of the ministers of all the churches in the city, the mayor and city council.

We ask for donations of clothing for women and children especially. The need is great for all kinds of help, and above all things, it should be given immediately. "He that giveth quickly giveth twice." Let all receive the members of the soliciting committee kindly when they call and respond generously to their appeal.

A number of gentlemen made the proposition that a charity concert be given to-night and it was accepted with thanks and preparations to that end immediately put under way. The committee having charge of the concert are Rev. E. A. Penick, Dr. Wm. Baxter, Mr. Wickliffe Chapman, Mr. Vernon L. Clark and Rev. Dr. J. McClusky Blayney. Prof. Wayland Graham has the direction of the musical programme, which insures the success of the entertainment in an artistic point of view, and it is now with the citizens who have been blessed with an abundance and aid in making it an equal success financially. The tickets are placed at fifty cents. Among those who have already contributed largely to the work of charity are the W. A. Gaines Company, $1,000; Mrs. Mary Hendrick, Mrs. Landon Thomas, Col. E. Polk Johnson, Mrs. Mary Brown Day, Mr. Ben T. Farmer, the ministers of all the churches and numerous others.

Recovers His Speech.

Alphonse Hempling, of Summit township, Butler Co., Penn., made an affidavit that his twelve-year-old son, who had had St. Vitus Dance for twelve years, lost his speech, was completely cured after using three bottles of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and also recovered his speech. Thousands testify to wonderful cures from using it for nervous diseases, dyspepsia, nervous debility, dizziness, confusion of mind, headache, etc. Four doses of this Nervine cured Mrs. W. E. Burns, South Bend, Ind., who had been suffering with constant headache for three months. Trial bottle and elegant book free at J. W. Gayle's.

MR. B. F. FIRESTONE

Fell Wednesday, Broke His Leg and Died From the Shock.

Wednesday morning Mr. B. F. Firestone, the well-known saddler, who had been lame from his youth, caused by white swelling, in stepping out of his door to turn the water on at his hydrant, slipped and fell to the ground and broke his lame leg. The shock was so great to his nervous system as to cause his death a few hours after the accident.

Mr. Firestone, who was fifty-six years of age, has been a resident here for thirty years and his high character won for him a large circle of warm friends, who were deeply pained to learn of the sad occurrence. He was a prominent Odd Fellow and his body was attended to the grave by the members of that order.

A wife and a daughter, Mrs. Robert Hicks, of Louisville, are left to mourn their loss.

The Most Pleasant Way

Of preventing the grippe, colds, headaches, and fevers is to use the liquid laxative remedy Syrup of Figs, whenever the system needs a gentle, yet effective cleansing. To be benefited one must get the true remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only. For sale by all druggists in 50c. and $1 bottles.

FIRES DURING THE WEEK.

At Old Crow, George Berry's, Mrs. Ann Morris' and Tom Fletcher's Residences.

Monday morning the boxing around to the tank at the Old Crow distillery caught fire and threatened to do considerable damage, but fortunately the engineer, Wm. Jones, discovered it in time to cut the plank away and save the distillery from destruction.

Monday night an alarm was turned in from box 12, at the corner of Mr. Henry Williams' grocery, on the South Side. The fire department promptly responded, but on their arrival at the scene of the blaze, which was nothing more than the burning out of a chimney at Mr. George Berry's residence, their assistance was not necessary. It was extinguished without any loss.

Tuesday morning, about the breakfast hour, the handsome new residence on Second street, of Mrs. Ann Morris and her daughter, Miss Emma, was in great danger of destruction. Smoke was discovered issuing from beneath and around a tiled hearth, and the ladies of the house sent for Capt. Headley, their next door neighbor, to come to their assistance. Capt. Headley, however, had not yet arisen from bed and no other man at the time was near enough to be of any service in extinguishing the blaze before it could make any headway. Mrs. and Miss Morris, in their extremity, were exerting themselves to tear down the mantle and take up the hearth, but the work required stronger and more dexterous hands, which happily were furnished soon after in the person of Mr. Richard Tyre, who chanced to be passing the house. He easily accomplished the work and the ladies of the neighboring houses supplied the necessary buckets of water to extinguish the flames. The fire had its origin in a defective construction of the box that held the hearth, and the loss in the damage done to the fine mantle and hearth will be about $100. It will not fall on the owner of the property, however, as the house was insured.

Mr. Tom Fletcher's house, in Bellepoint, caught fire Tuesday but was extinguished before much damage was done.

All Along the Line

Is heard praise of Dr. Hale's House hold Ointment. Mrs. I. S. Jacob's, of Farmington, Maine, writes that she suffered five years with varicose veins and two running sores on her leg, and was completely cured by its use. D. S. Fillery, Salisbury, Vt., writes: "We cannot live without it; it relieves my sister of asthma at once; it cures a burn or a hurt of any kind almost instantly." Under date of May 30, 1892, R. H. Simpson, Le Roy, N. Y., writes: "I used Hale's Ointment for rheumatism three years ago and have not been troubled since. It is the finest ointment in the world for general use. 25c. and 50c. per box. For sale by P. H. CANTER.

THE RIVER CONVENTION.

A Representative Meeting Attended by Many Distinguished People.

Congressman Berry, Attorney General Hendrick, Hon. Theodore Hallam and Others Address the Meeting.

Resolutions Requesting Congress to Make Large Appropriations.

The convention called to meet in this city Wednesday for the purpose of taking steps to urge the speedy completion of the improvement to river navigation before Congress was attended by a large number of delegates from the various counties interested in the work. It was a representative meeting, and included all classes of people, from the farmer and mechanic to bankers, State officials and Congressmen.

The hour fixed for the meeting was 12 o'clock, but was about a quarter past 12 when Mr. John W. Rodman moved that Judge Lyander Hord, of this city, be made the chairman of the convention. It was unanimously adopted.

Mr. John W. Pruett then moved that Mr. M. P. Gray, of this city, be made the secretary, and it was adopted.

Hon. W. S. Bailey, of Carroll county, stated that the county judge of his county had requested him to act as the representative from Carroll, and that his county was enthusiastically in favor of the early completion of the work.

Judge Hord by this time took the chair, and in a few remarks, in which he called attention to coal mines in winter from ice and summer from shallow water on the Ohio river, said that the convention had assembled to consider the best method of urging the rapid completion of the most important work to the people of the State and the whole Ohio valley that Congress could possibly perform for them.

Hon. Albert S. Berry, of Newport, member of Congress from the Sixth district, was called for and made an address to the meeting.

He said he had always taken great interest in the improvement of the Ohio and tributary rivers, and had the privilege of introducing the bill in the Legislature that gave the possession of this river to the Federal Government.

He had promised then made on the part of the Federal Government that the river would be speedily locked and dammed, but from the progress that has been made in the twelve years since it was ceded he did not think the grandchildren of the present generation would witness the completion of the work. He said the people of Kentucky, with coal right at their doors, are bound to depend for their supply on the mines from Pennsylvania; that those living along this river draw it many hundred miles down the Ohio and then up the Kentucky, when, if the navigation were improved to the headwaters as contemplated, it would require its transportation but a few miles down this river. A suggestion, he said, had been made that the improvement be put under the contract system, which it was represented would accomplish the requirements of the meeting.

For fifteen or eighteen years after the war, the speaker said, the representatives of Kentucky in Congress refused to accept the idea of the Federal Government making appropriations for internal improvements. They contended that it was opposed to the true principles of government and kept the State from obtaining the benefits of such appropriations, which were uninterrupted for rivers and harbors of the northern and eastern States.

In the meanwhile Kentucky was one of the largest revenue paying States in the Union, and the appropriations were regularly made to other States until at last it settled into a fixed policy of the Government to contend against, which now is sheer nonsense and stubborn opposition to the material interests of the people of this State. Having been so long, therefore, deprived of the benefits of these appropriations, Colonel Berry thought it no more than justice that large amounts should be expended on the rivers of Kentucky, and this stream in particular, which the committee from Congress, to whom the matter of accepting the river was referred, said was the most beautiful and promising in the wealth of its development in the State.

He said the people didn't want to get their coal a thousand miles from home when it was within their own State, and he thought they were right in giving their Representatives to understand that the matter of the speedy completion of these rivers was of more importance to them than anything else they could possibly advocate for their interests. He believed the way to present the matter properly to the Representatives is to show them that you are in earnest in your request, by adopting a series of strong resolutions, setting forth the purpose of the meeting and appointing a committee to go before Congress to urge the appropriations asked for, and then to keep up the agitation in every county and not relax in the effort to accomplish the object sought. As for himself, he pledged that he would gladly co-operate with the wishes of the meeting in the matter.

Hon. Theodore F. Hallam, of Covington, was then called upon for remarks. He spoke of the vast coal and iron districts in Kentucky and that all the State needed was the united effort of the people to induce our Representatives in Congress to prosecute the matter of large appropriations for the development of the State. He said the Federal Government, by accepting the river, assumed a contract to complete the locking and damming within a reasonable time and not be prolonged forever. The locking and damming of the Kanawha by the Federal Government has brought immense wealth to West Virginia. He understood that all the appropriations the Government had made to Kentucky for her rivers was $1,000,000, which was not a drop in the bucket in proportion to the taxes paid by the State.

Attorney General Hendrick next spoke and said, that he endorsed fully what Col. Berry and Mr. Hallam had said and that the large attendance and enthusiasm of the meeting gave him heart to hope for the development of these great interests at an early day. He said he knew that thirty years ago Frankfort and Winchester paid from two to three cents a bushel more for Beattyville coal than for Pittsburgh and that unless the waterways are developed, as the present experience shows, the people are at the mercy of the railways. The cost of transportation as between water and rail, he said, was as one to eight; that where it cost one dollar by water it cost eight by rail. While we have been apparently indifferent to the wealth of our mountains, Wall street, New York, and the Maine and Michigan lumber companies are awake to the value of that part of our State and are gradually obtaining great tracts. He had been to Washington often and had not heard the voice of a congressman from Kentucky raised in behalf of the river interests. He thought they were not deaf but were blind to the real interests of the people and he had great hope now that they could be made to hear the call urging them to united effort for what was justly due them from the Federal Government. He likened the State to a cow in winter at a fodder rack, nibbling hanks for her sustenance while others regularly came to milk her. He said the Democratic party, as Col. Berry had said, must realize that the matter of internal appropriations now is a fixed policy we cannot change and must accept.

We do not accept it as protection but because the people are the masters and the Government the servant who has merely collected the money for use to the highest advantage of the people's interests. All over the United States, he said, there is an agitation of canal and river improvements going on. They are known to be the national highway which God himself has given to man and it is through them only will that important question of freight rates be solved. In conclusion he said that the river improvement meant more to the people of the State than any railroad interest that could now be projected. Capt. I. V. Hoag, the United States Engineer in charge of the river improvements, said that he thought all the people needed to accomplish their purpose was concerted action to stand up for their rights. In West Virginia, where he was stationed for awhile, he said that no man would dare seek to represent the people in Congress unless he was quick and sincere in pledging him self to the development of Kanawha river.

Questions were asked of Capt. Hoag relating to this river which he answered as follows:

"It will require four or five more locks and dams to reach the coal fields, which are about 225 to 250 miles from the mouth of the river.

"The slow progress of the work is attributable to the inadequate appropriations by Congress, and that if large enough appropriations were made, say a million dollars, all the locks and dams could be constructed at once and in about three years the entire work completed.

"In the Kanawha, the Government directly built the first two or three dams, but now the work is under the contract system.

"The cost of each lock and dam on the Kanawha river, and there are eight, has been between $350,000 and $300,000, while the highest cost of one in this river would not exceed $200,000."

A motion was then made that a committee be appointed to draft suitable resolutions, and that the meeting adjourn until 3:30 o'clock, when it will re-assemble to hear and act upon the committee's report. It was adopted and the following committee appointed: Attorney General W. J. Hendrick, Chairman; Hon. Albert S. Berry, County Clerk C. B. Hill and County Judge G. W. Gourley, of Lee county; Representative W. S. Bailey, of Carroll county, and Squire P. McDonald and Messrs. John W. Pruett, Lewis E. Harvie, W. H. Murray, J. W. Gaines and S. F. J. Trabue, of Frankfort; Hon. L. F. Mans and Hon. E. M. Pryse.

Letters of regret that they could not be present were received from Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, member of Congress from this district, Col. J. Stoddard Johnston and Gen. John B. Castleman, of Louisville. The meeting then adjourned.

Upon re-assembling at 3:30 o'clock there was a noticeable accession of delegates in attendance, a large number of them being members of the Legislature, who could not be present at the first meeting. Chairman Hendrick read the resolutions prepared by the committee, when Mr. M. P. Gray moved that an amendment be made to add a resolution that an official copy be certified to each member of Congress from Kentucky. The amendments and also the resolutions were then adopted unanimously, as follows:

WHEREAS The State of Kentucky, by acts of the General Assembly, has transferred and ceded to the United States the locks and dams constructed by the State on the Kentucky river, the locking and the Big Sandy rivers, together with all the ground and appurtenances thereunto belonging, for the purpose of enabling the United States to continue the slack-water navigation of said rivers to the inexhaustible supplies of coal, iron and timber on the upper waters of said rivers;

AND WHEREAS The appropriations heretofore made by the Congress of the United States for the further improvement of said rivers since said acts of cession have been inadequate to insure steady advancement in said work and a part of the dams, in their present condition, are liable to be destroyed by floods; and

WHEREAS The estimates made by the department of engineers show that the cost of completing the locks and dams now in course of construction, and the other locks and dams necessary to provide continuous slack-water navigation on these rivers, thereby opening up to the commercial world a territory unsurpassed in the United States in mineral and timber wealth, the development of which will add millions of dollars to the taxable wealth of the people of Kentucky, and will contribute largely to the comfort and growth of the United States, will be insignificant as compared with the resultant benefits; therefore, be it

Resolved, That our Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States be instructed and earnestly requested to urge upon that body the appropriation of such sums of money as will insure the speedy completion of the locks and dams in course of construction, and the erection of the other locks and dams necessary to complete said improvements and provide said slack water navigation at the earliest practicable time, and thereby secure to the people of Kentucky and of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys the incalculable benefits which will surely result therefrom.

Resolved, That the chair appoint a committee of five, to constitute an executive committee, whose duty it shall be to designate, from time to time, committees from the various counties to go in person to Washington to forward the objects herein contemplated.

WM. J. HENDRICK, Chairman,
W. S. BAILEY,
G. W. GOURLEY,
C. B. HILL,
T. E. HALLAM,
J. W. PRUETT,
LEWIS E. HARVIE,

P. McDONALD,
W. H. MURRAY,
J. W. GAINES,
L. F. MANN,
E. M. PRYSE,
W. S. BAILEY.

A motion was made that a permanent executive committee be appointed, whose duty it shall be to continue the work begun at this meeting by designating, from time to time, and county to county, such persons as in their judgment should co-operate with the committee, and, if necessary, to go to Washington City to urge prompt measures upon Congress. It was adopted and the committee named as follows: Gen. Hendrick, Chairman; Joseph Robinson, D. M. Woodson, W. H. Murray, H. E. Taylor, Jr., Judge Ben G. Williams and Mr. Grant Green.

Col. Thomas Rodman moved that a vote of thanks be tendered to Col. A. S. Berry as the only Kentucky Congressman who has shown enough interest in the movement to attend the meeting. It was adopted by a rising vote just as Col. Berry entered the room, and received a loud applause. In reply to the vote Col. Berry said he didn't deserve any thanks for performing his duty, and what he had was a pleasure to serve the interests of the people of the State. He said it was not necessary to speak further on the subject, but it just occurred to him that the great tow-boat John S. Williams recently took, on one trip, three quarters of a million bushels of coal from Louisville to New Orleans. It would take the railroad all summer to do it. No stronger argument in favor of the river as against rail need be offered, and he hoped the people of all the counties would remember it and keep the agitation going. Mr. James A. Scott then moved that a petition be formulated and transmitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, requesting him to appoint Col. Berry on the River and Harbor Committee. It was adopted, and the meeting adjourned, subject to the call of the Chairman.

As Colonel Breckinridge is the member of Congress from this district, it is due him that the following letter explaining his position in the matter be published:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16, 1896.

Judge Lyander Hord, Frankfort, Ky.: My Dear Sir: It will be impossible for me to meet the convention in Frankfort on the 18th. Engagements here compel me to remain, and I feel somewhat reluctant, even if I could otherwise be present, to add millions of dollars as my motives in both the visit and in any utterance I might make to the convention would be liable to misconstruction.

I send by this mail to your address copies of the River and Harbor Acts passed by the 49th, 50th, 51st and 52d Congresses, as the convention may desire to know the exact nature of the legislation on that subject. You will observe that in the 49th Congress there was appropriated for continuing the improvement of the Kentucky river the sum of $187,000; in the 50th, $180,000; in the 51st, $180,000; in the 52d, $150,000. The 51st Congress passed acts permitting contractors to be made for deepening the harbors at Galveston, Baltimore, &c., and in the act passed by the 52d Congress there was appropriated outright, in round numbers, the sum of $21,000,000, and authority given to contract for about $31,000,000 in addition. The reduction of the appropriation to the Kentucky river to $150,000, and the very large sum authorized to be contracted for, caused me to vote against that bill. I feared that, in the condition of the Treasury, sums so large as those that would have to be paid in liquidation of the contracts might either prevent or diminish the appropriations needed for the Kentucky river. At this session we will be probably authorized to appropriate something over $16,000,000 in payment on these various contracts, and there will remain for the next Congress some $26,000,000 to be appropriated to pay off those contracts.

I enclose a tabulated statement, made for the use of the committee on appropriations, which shows the amount authorized for the various improvements enumerated in these acts, the sums heretofore appropriated to meet the contracts, the balance to be hereafter met, and the estimate for this Congress; for while the estimates accepted under the year 1894, the appropriations have to be passed by this Congress. Other sums have been paid out of the U. S. Treasury for the Kentucky river during the eight years covered by the 49th, 50th, 51st and 52d Congresses, and not included in the appropriation set out above, but which is what is known as permanent appropriations.

The work of internal improvements being under the control of the engineering corps, of the Army, and the subject is liable to constant change of location, does not proceed with the rapidity I think would follow if it could be done under the supervision of civil engineers; but a change of system has not met the favor of any administration nor of a majority of either House of Congress.

I cordially sympathize with the object of the convention, and the improvement of the Kentucky river is of great importance, not only to the counties through which the river runs, but to the development and prosperity of the entire State.

In the 49th Congress the Chairman of the Committee was a Kentucky Representative, who was thinking of this subject and the needs and condition of our river. Since then we have not had on that Committee any Representatives from Kentucky.

With cordial good wishes, and with sincere personal respect to you, I am,

Very truly yours,

W. C. P. BRECKINRIDGE.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, JAN. 21, 1893.

EX-PRESIDENT HAYES

Died Suddenly Tuesday Night at His Home in Fremont, Ohio.

Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes died suddenly Tuesday night of paralysis of the heart. He was born in Delaware, Ohio, October 4, 1822, graduated at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, in 1842, studied law under Thomas Sparrow, at Columbus, Ohio and attended Harvard University, and in 1845 was admitted to practice. In 1849 he established himself in Cincinnati, where he enjoyed the friendship of Salmon P. Chase, Thos. Ewing, Thos. Crowlin, Stanley Matthews, Moncure D. Conway, Manning F. Force and others of equal celebrity. December 30, 1852, he married Miss Lucy W. Webb, daughter of Dr. J. Webb, of Chillicothe, O. He was originally a Whig, voting for Henry Clay, General Taylor and General Scott, but joined the Republican party as soon as it was organized, and played the election of Fremont in 1860 and Lincoln in 1860. He enlisted during the war and was made captain, and after serving with distinction in all the campaigns of the 23d Ohio Volunteer Infantry, he left the service at the close of the war a brevet Major General, and on December 4th, 1865, took his seat in Congress. In 1867 he was elected Governor of Ohio, and again in 1869, defeating the Democratic candidates. Allen G. Thurman the first time, and George H. Pendleton the second time. In 1875 he was again elected Governor, and at the National Republican Convention in Cincinnati, June 14, 1876, received the nomination for President over such candidates as James G. Blaine, Oliver P. Morton, Benjamin H. Brewster, Roscoe Conkling, and John H. Hartranft. The Electoral Commission, in the contest between Mr. Hayes and Mr. Samuel J. Tilden, the Democratic candidate who claimed the election, gave the office to Mr. Hayes. He has lived at his home in Ohio since the expiration of his term as President.

The remains were buried yesterday beside his wife in Oakwood cemetery.

Power of the Press.

There certainly seems to be no of the imagination and the play-acting of the press, and similar English writers, when such effective work as the "Power of the Press," by Augustus Pitou and George H. Joseph, can be produced here. The original American drama in five acts, seven tableaux and fourteen scenes running this week—and for many weeks to come at the Imperial Theatre, is a success beyond peradventure. It deals with familiar phases of New York life, presents well-known localities, avoids the stale, tells a coherent story and is interpreted by a company of signal excellence. The plot turns upon the mishaps of a New York shipwright, who is unjustly accused of crime and sentenced to a term of years in Sing Sing. His innocence is afterwards established through the "power of the press" in working up the matter. But in the meantime the hero, between his release from prison and his vindication, has a hard time of it, for with the convict taint he finds it impossible to get honest work. The delighted audience, which applauded vigorously, called out actors and authors, and with the verdict of success one of the most attractive and sensible melodramas of the day.

The admirable and striking scenic effects were prepared by Young, Reid, Emma, Mohr and Becker. They include the front of the new Athletic Club, on Madison avenue, the corridor of the Imperial Hotel, a shipyard with men at work; a night scene, in which the crew of the "Mary Vale" hoist anchor to the music of their own stentorian chorus. Nothing more realistic than this last scene has been witnessed on our stage. It was received with immense applause.—New York Music and Drama.

The thermometer varies from five to fifteen degrees below zero.

Our local physician, Dr. Harry Innes, says the people are distressingly healthy.

The holidays brought an occasional wedding, with innumerable dinners and dances.

There is being a great deal said just now about roads and roadways

In Kentucky. There is perhaps nothing connected with roads in Kentucky that would so please the people as the abolition of the toll system. Bill McKinley, Ohio's Bill McKinley, has never dreamed of a tariff as extortionate as the tolls on Kentucky turnpike roads.

The fodder slides, carts, buggies and wheelbarrows are being rapidly turned into sleighs.

The weather has been very hard upon stock, especially so upon sheep and lambs. The farmers seem to think that the snow will thoroughly protect the wheat.

Mr. Pat Newman and wife, of Atlanta, were visiting friends here during the holidays.

With the exception of a few old fogies, the citizens are happy over the passage of the World's Fair appropriation by the lower House, and now demand the immediate action of the Senate. Kentucky must not lose this opportunity to advertise to all the nations of the earth her grand resources.

Since the Mason & Ford Company does not wish to lease the prison again, let the General Assembly grasp the opportunity to forever abolish the system of leasing.

SENATORIAL CHAMPIONS

The senatorial champions are marshaling their forces for a final struggle. They have no desire to detract from the chances of any of the aspirants, but in view of past events it does seem to us that James B. McCreary should stand pre-eminently above all competitors.

Local.

FIRE AND DESTITUTION—Friday night of last week, the house and all its contents belonging to Andy Downey, a worthy citizen of the Benson depot neighborhood, was destroyed by fire and his family, consisting of his wife and eight children, were thereby rendered homeless and destitute. They came to this city Saturday and a number of citizens became interested in them and temporarily relieved their distress.

VERY FEW ESCAPED—Even the water pipes in the home of the Superintendent of the Water Works froze up tighter than Dick's hat band Sunday night, and could not be thawed out for several days.

THE PRODIGAL LAMB—The Journal of this week contained a genuine advertisement as follows: "Found—a black sheep." It is said that nearly every family has a black sheep and it is therefore nothing new to learn that one has been found, but the announcement of the recovery of such an estray might produce as much of an unexpected rush as that which astonished and confused the temperance lecturer in Maine, who carried around with him from place to place a red-nose individual as an "awful example," and when in a certain town he asked the red-nose gentleman in the audience to please step forward, he was suddenly confronted by forty red-nose men.

FRANKFORT STILL ON TOP—In Louisville, Monday, the Columbia Fire Insurance Company elected W. P. D. Bush, formerly of this city, the president, and his son, Harry R. Bush, assistant secretary.

Judge Charles S. Grubbs, who was made one of the directors, married a daughter of Gen. John Rodman, deceased.

A PRISONER REMOVED—Thomas Bartlett, a saloon-keeper, who killed the wife of a physician in Carrollton about two years ago because she refused to elope with him, and then fled and was captured, and afterwards brought to this city for safe-keeping, was taken to Carrollton for trial last Tuesday.

THE KENYON HOTEL—Captain Sandy Pence transferred his lease of the Kenyon Hotel to Mr. Samuel Boone, who assumed charge last Wednesday. Mr. Boone has had a successful experience in keeping a hotel both at Hartford and Bardstown. His son Mr. T. Boone, will be associated with him in the management.

TOM HENDRICKS—Officer Owen, of Bellepoint, on last Sunday arrested Tom Hendrick at White Sulphur on the charge of robbing a man of $25 while they were together in a wagon en route to Bald Knob, and placed him in the keeping of Jailer Williams, of this city.

RABBITS GALORE—A farmer living in the Sand Ripple neighborhood came into town Wednesday with three hundred and sixty-five rabbits loaded on a sled, and retailed them about the streets. They were caught in traps, and the load represented about the largest offering ever seen in this city at one time.

MANDOLIN CLUB—A number of musical performers in the city are organizing a mandolin club under the lead of Mr. Gus Ritchie, with Prof. Wolfe as the musical director. They expect to enroll sixteen members, and after practice furnish music of a high order.

BANQUET BY A BENEVOLENT ORDER—The Young Men's Institute, a Catholic organization of this city, after the regular business proceedings at their lodge room on St. Clair street Wednesday night, gave a banquet at Sower & Ahler's in honor of a number of visiting members of the order from Covington. Wolfe's orchestra furnished the music. The lodge made the liberal donation of $100 to the charity fund of the city.

RAILROAD CHANGES—Mr. J. L. Coleman, the agent of the Kentucky Midland in this city, resigned, and on Tuesday Mr. E. J. Parker was appointed in his stead. Mr. John Rodman, assistant agent, also resigned, but his successor has not been named.

SLEIGHT UPSET—Dr. U. V. Williams on Tuesday was upset in his sleigh, at the corner of Main and St. Clair streets, by the runners catching in the street railway track. He sustained no injury and at once proceeded on his way.

MRS. EMMA LANE—The Cincinnati Enquirer of Wednesday tells the story of a girl nineteen years of age who went to Cincinnati from Winchester with the intention of going to the hospital until she became a mother, but the police had her taken to the Home of the Friendless. The girl said she was married and expected her husband to find her there but that he had failed to do it. She said her name was Emma Lane and that she had been living for some time seven miles from Frankfort, Ky.

WORK FOR THE POOR—The Humane Society are furnishing employment to the poor in cutting wood at the drift pile and paying them in food, clothing and provisions.

JUDGMENT FOR TOBIN—In the Circuit Court Thursday judgment for $800 in the case of L. Tobin vs. the South estate was awarded to the plaintiff.

ROOF FELL—A part of the roof of the Church Bros. stable fell in from the weight of the snow Wednesday and damaged a number of vehicles belonging to the proprietors.

QUEEN ISABELLA

Will Arrive Next Tuesday and Receive Her Loyal Subjects at Judge Wm. Lindsay's Residence.

For the reason that there were too many conflicting social engagements this week, Queen Isabella of Spain again postponed her arrival in this city until next Tuesday night, at which time she will hold a royal court and expect every loyal subject in her realm to be present at the residence of her esteemed friend, Mrs. William Lindsay, on Wapping street. Her Majesty, attended by many of the loveliest young ladies of the city as her maids of honor, will receive in the throne room between the hours of 8 and 11 o'clock, and while the Spanish customs are not obligatory, she requests that the ladies who call on her will at least wear some mark of Spanish dress. As the occasion of Her Majesty's visit is to show her royal favor to the most praiseworthy efforts of the ladies of the Columbian Club of this city, in raising jointly with other similar clubs in the State, the sum of $5,000 to furnish a Kentucky parlor at the World's Fair, an admission fee of 50 cents will be charged, for which, after an audience with the Queen, coffee and light refreshments will be served. Badges for the gentlemen have been donated and will be furnished to them without extra charge.

Prof. Wolfe has kindly tendered the services of the orchestra, and a number of Spanish students have been engaged to play on their guitars and vary the musical programme for the evening.

As the elegant mansion will be beautifully decorated for the occasion and Spanish costumes be worn by many who will be present and observe the etiquette of a royal court, the entertainment promises to be the most brilliant and interesting society event of the season.

Tickets are for sale at Barrett's and at the hotels.

INTERESTING FIGURES

On Cold Weather for the Past
Half a Century Furnished by Dr. Williams.

Many people who have very good memories are often at fault when the subject of comparisons of the weather by the seasons of past years is brought up, but a record kept at the time by a reliable man furnishes proof that few will attempt to dispute. Such a record is shown in a report compiled by Dr. U. V. Williams from data collected by himself for the past twenty-four years, and also from other trustworthy sources for the rest of the period back to fifty years.

From the figures tabulated by him he finds that in the fifty years the coldest weather record was below zero for twenty-six of these years, and the average date was January 19, and average temperature 55.6 degrees below zero. For sixteen of the years the coldest day was above zero, and the average date January 19, and temperature 5 degrees above zero. The six zero years bring Jan. 23 as the average date, and from all the grouping and averaging of dates and temperature, the doctor finds that the average time at which the temperature began to rise was January 16th, from which he argues that this winter promises less cold weather for the rest of the season.

The table prepared by the Doctor is as follows:

List of coldest days and which did not reach zero:

1844, Jan. 29	3 above
1850, Feb. 19	1 "
1855, Feb. 26	4 "
1860, Dec. 31	4 "

Average temperature for the 50 years out of the fifty, 5.56 below zero and date January 18.

THE POLICE

And Fire Commissioners Organize and Elect Policemen.

From the nominations made by the City Council last week, Mayor Tobin selected Messrs. R. W. McRory, S. R. Smith, V. Berberich and John W. Milam as the members who, with himself, constitute the Police and Fire Commission.

The Board met Thursday night and organized by the election of Mayor Tobin as chairman, and later entered upon the consideration of the claims of twenty-two applicants for policemen.

From among the number the following gentlemen were elected: Alex. Innis, H. J. Hyde, Henry Brown, W. R. Wells, Claude Mitchell, Charles Glone and W. H. Gordon.

There are fifteen applicants for positions in the fire department, but the Board concluded to postpone the election of firemen until next Wednesday night, and accordingly adjourned to meet again that night.

Frankfort Orchestra.
Tableau—Charity—Two Scenes.

"An excellent remedy" is what Mr. W. H. Ames, 712 S. 17th St., St. Louis, Mo., says of it. In these words: "I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and found it to be an excellent remedy for coughs and colds."

Deaths.

DONLEY—Mrs. M. A. Donley died at ten minutes to 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, after an illness of several weeks with pneumonia, aged 50 years. The deceased had for many years been a consistent member of the Christian Church and died in the full faith of a glorious life in that beautiful land beyond the tomb. She leaves one son, Mr. John Donley, who is a travelling salesman for Messrs.

Miles & Son, to mourn his loss. The funeral took place at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from her late residence, 149 Ann street, and was conducted by Rev. George Darsie, her pastor.

HEFFNER—After a lingering illness of several months duration, Mr. James W. Heffner passed away, at his home on Broadway, Thursday night, in the 54th year of his age. The deceased was the eldest son of the late Nelson Heffner, and was born and raised in this city, where he leaves a large circle of friends. He was a quiet unobtrusive citizen, and was appreciated most by those who knew him best. During the past two years he was a member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners. It is a strange coincidence that he died at the same age in the same month of the year and with apparently the same disease, that his father died some twenty odd years ago. He leaves a widow, formerly Miss Milissa Case, of Circleville, Ohio, and one son, Mr. Will N. Heffner, to mourn their loss.

Births.

GREEN—Wednesday to the wife of Mr. Grant Green, Jr., a son.

BRIDGEFORD—To the wife of Mr. W. B. Bridgeford, a daughter.
